YOUNG JOCKEY IN RARE FORM AT BENNINGS TRACK.

Little Woods, Pater and Cologne Take Three Races for W. L. Manpin-Four Odds On Favorites Help the Talent to Beat Bookmakers Again - Entries.

WASHINGTON, March 30. - Three races were won to-day at Bennings in the colors of W.
L. Maupin, one by the three-year-old Little
Woods and the others by the two-year-olds
Pater and Cologne. Four odds-on favorites were successful, and both of the other winners were so heavily played that the ring experienced another series of hard knocks. which caused a number of layers to suspend that the game would be more profitable for them at Aqueduct. The weather was threatening, but the crowd came just the came to see the various events run over a same to se

Jockey Baird, the lightweight, who recently came here from New Orleans to ride as a free lance, had a field day. He rode four winners in masterly fashion and made such an excellent impression that some of the big stables will probably be after his services in future. Baird handled the suc-cessful horses in the first three races right off the reel. He had the leg up on the Albe-marle Stable's Sohemia in the first race, for fillies and mares three years old and over, at five furlongs, and the heavy speculators backed her down to 9 to 20 Robemia was much the best of a fair sized field and after trailing behind Brush Up, who ran to form for nearly half a mile, Baird took Vagner's fleet daughter to the front and she Wagner's fleet daughter to the front and she won going away by half a length in 1:02 2-5. Brush Up took the place under a drive from Girdle, 15 to 1, by three lengths.

In the second race, for two-year-old maiden fillies and geldings, at four furlongs, Baird gode Maupin's Pater, by Fatherless—Aurine, 2 to 5 favorite, who simply enjoyed a good exercise gallop and won in a romp by three lengths in 0:46 4-5. August Belmont's Crossways, a filly by Octagon—Lucy Cross. a 30 to 1 outsider, closed strong under a hard ride and nailed the place from Ambitious, 7 to 2, by a head, the latter stopping to nothing in the last half dozen strides.

Again, in the third race, for maiden two-year-old coits, at four and a half furlongs, Baird was the rider of Maupin's Cologne, a colt by Precious—Perfume, who was a receding second choice at 5 to 2. Legerdemain, a colt by Ualore—Prestidigitatrice, who ram in the colors of the Barbarity stable, was a 4 to 10 favorite, but after leading well into the stretch he quit completely, and could not finish in the money. Cologne, on the other hand, ran a fine race, Baird getting him home in front by a length and a half over Old Guard, a son of Faraday—Lancet, 6 to 1. H. T. Chriffin's Ratio, a Sir Dixon coit, 7 to 1, was a peor third, but he beat the favorite by a length.

Baird's fourth winner was in the last race.

peor third, but he beat the favorite by a length.
Baird's fourth winner was in the last race, for platers, at a mile and a sixteenth, when he had the leg up on Maupin's Little Woods. There were only three starters in this event, the talent making H. T. Griffin's Bill Curtis a favorite at 8 to 2, while Little Woods went back to 17 to 10 and The Huguenot closed at 5 to 2. Baird made all the running with Little Woods, and in a driving finish beat Bill Curtis by half a length, the latter closing rapidly.

Bill Curtis by fair a length, the latter closing rapidly.

There was nothing to the fourth race, for three-year-olds, but Preen, the crack three-year-old of the Goughacres Stable, who, as a prohibitive favorite, made a runaway of it from the raising of the barrier and won under wraps by half a dozen lengths. F. R. Hitchcock's Cabin, a 10 to 1 shot, ran well for his first time out and nipped the place from Jr. L. Hayman's Yorkshire Lad, 20 to 1, by a neck. Tim Hurst, Fuller up, was a disappointment for those that took 8 to 1 against him.

Ti is said that the Jockey Club may grant a trainer's license to S. C. Hildreth, after all. Rikireth has been in disfavor ever since his altercation with John E. Madden at Morris Park several years ago, and has confined his operations to the Western turf. He has charge of a hig string of horses belonging to E. E. Smathers, who will race most of them in the East this year. Smathers has been trying to secure a license for Hildreth ever since last summer. The summaries:

Things About the Spit Ball. If looks count for anything Jack Chesbre, the star pitcher of the New York Americans, will be as much of a factor in the team's uccess this year as he was last season. Ches bro arrived in town yesterday direct from Cambridge, where he had been coaching the Harvard pitchers for six weeks. He dropped into the American League Club's offices in the Flatiron Building and was warmly re-ceived by President Gordon and Treasurer Farrell. Chesbro was slated to leave two hours later for Atlanta, Ga., to join Griffith's team, and while he killed time he talked baseball in a most enthusiastic way. "I am ready to go into the box now," said the great twirler. "I have been pitching in the Harvard cage every day, and I am down to 179 pounds, stripped, which is five pounds less than my weight when I went South last year, and my arm is stronger than it has been in six seasons, which gees to show that the use of the spit ball in a majority of the fiftyfour games I pitched last year did me no harm. At Cambridge I had so much speed that I am inclined to use it quite a bit this spring, instead of the spit ball, which will be pitched by probably all the leading boxmen this year.

"The principles of the spit ball, by the way may be well illustrated by the old trick of throwing a child's hoop with a reverse twitch, so that after it has run along the floor with and rolls back again. The spit ball is pitched so that after it has gone a certain distance at great speed the reverse, 'english,' so to speak, makes it 'break' or drop away so quickly that it is almost impossible for a batsman to hit itsquarely. Last year Stovall of the Clevelands purposely hit a foot under where the ball seemed to be about to pass over the plate, and knocked it against the centre field fence for a homer. But that was luck, don't you know? This wetting the fingers before pitching is going to revolutionize box work. I'll venture to predict that more curves, drops and shoots will be invented in the next five years, than anybody has an idea of. I have been experimenting a great deal myself, and have already discovered several del:—'es that if mastered will put the origin spit ball in the shade. But I'll not try ai, of them until I can get control. At Harvard several young men tried to catch the spit ball, with its variations. One had a thumb broken on his left hand, altheugh he wore a big mitt, while another had an egg shaped lump raised on his shin bone that made him limp for a week.

"Newton will be a great man for the Americans this year, for he is an experienced left-hander. Then, too, young Clarkson will come near making good, for he has the qualities that are necessary. All that he needs is a little confidence. If he could pull a 2 to 1 game out in the ninth inning his success would be assured. It looks to me as though Griffith has strengthened our team a great deal since last year and that we ought to make a strong bid for the championship.

"The Harvard team will be much stronger than last year. Cohurn and Scheenfuss a certain amount of speed it suddenly stops and rolls back again. The spit ball is pitched pionship.

"The Harvard team will be much stronger than last year. Coburn and Schoenfuss will do the greater part of the pitching, and the team outside of the box is very well balanced. The Crimson ought to clean up with the other colleges rather easily."

VICTORY FOR P. T. POWERS. Majority of Eastern League Clubs With

Him, and They'll Meet Next Tuesday. Enough wires were pulled yesterday to place P. T. Powers in absolute control of the affairs of the Eastern League. Powers had so well fortified his position last night that he decided to call the annual schedule meeting of the league for next Tuesday at the Victoria Hotel. At that meeting Powers, as president, will have the support of probably six out of the eight clubs, with Edward Hanlon of Baltimore and George Stallings of Buffalo in the minority.

Powers had in his inside pocket yesterday a letter signed by Howard C. Griffith of Jersey City, W. W. Burnham of Newark, Hanlon and Stallings, formally asking him to resign from the presidency to which he was reelected last December by a unanimous vote. This letter was the culmination of a conspiracy hatched some time ago, but before it had been delivered Powers had succeeded in checkmating it. Griffith, as THE SUN stated yesterday, had been noti-fied by the Jersey City club that he no longer represented that organization in the Eastern League meetings, and that he would be supplanted by William J. Murray, the manager of the team, who has always been a strong Powers man. M. B. Pruder, owner of the Newark club, had also repudiated Burnham, his manager, stating that he had no desire to oppose his manager, stating that he had no desire to oppose Powers in any way. Although Powers had not heard definitely from the Montreal club, he was able to line up Jersey City, Newark, Providence, Toronto and Rochester on his side of the house last night, which virtually settles the row that has been going on in the Eastern League for the past two months. Murray of the Jersey City club talked freely to The Sun man at the Bartholdi Hotel last night.

"You can say that Griffith has nothing more to do with our club," said he, and that his removal means that we will hear no more talk about a baseball war. Powers has been in baseball for twenty-one years, and he has never done a dishonest act. He has been the backbone of the Eastern League, and his friends are backing him to the limit in this crisis. Ham with Powers to a finish."

It leaked out yesterday that Griffith and Hanlon went to C. H. Ebbets some weeks ago and tried to find out how to buy F. A. Abell's stock in the Brooklyn club. Ebbets didn't like the looks of things, so hurriedly bought out H. R. Von der Horst's stock in the club and proceeded to cut Hanlon's salary down. This move on the part of Griffith and Hanlon was in line with a scheme to organize another major league with Buffalo, Brooklyn, Baltimore and Washington in the East, George Tebeau supplying four cities from his American associates in the West. Griffith talked so much, however, that the whole plan was soon regarded as a joke. Incidentally, Griffith made a statement to several baseball men of veracity that three clubs in the National League wanted to elect him president instead of H. C. Pulliam, who, by the way, had a long talk with Powers and Murray yesterday.

INTERESTING AUTO MATCH. Joe Tracy to Race Guy Vaughn on Road and Track.

An interesting match between two very evenly paired motor cars and two evenly expert drivers was made yesterday, and is the first one of the season to have its terms concluded. turn race of five miles at Morris Park on May 20. Tracy will drive the 20 horse-power Benault of Major C. J. S. Miller, and Goy Vaughn will drive the 40 horse-power Decauville that defeated Col. Emerson's Bollee on the Ormond beach.

Tracy holds most of the world's records in the middle weight class. His time on the track is better than Vaughn's, but the latter made better time on the straightaway course of the Florida beach. The match as arranged affords one road race with long straightaways and one track race, with a third meeting, if one is necessary, to be decided upon later.

Racing at Memphis.

Memphis, March 30.—The Demham filly, Spencerian, perfectly ridden by Hildebrand, captured the Monigomery Consolation Handleap, the feature of an excellent card at Montgomery Park this afternoon. Miss Doyle was just a bead behind the winner, while Little Scout, who took third money, was only a short neck behind the second horse. The finish was driving and one of the rhost exciting of the meeting. The winner was second choice, the Bennett entry, Little Scout and King's Trophy, being favorite. Favorites had an easy day, capturing five out of the six events. The track was faster than yesterday, the weather better and the attendance larger.

BAD TEMPER HELPS HISTORIAN TO BEAT STRAIGHT TIP.

Double Win for Robinson Entries in Boston Terriers-Eastover Lancetot and King Richard Go Down a Peg-Reginald Vanderbilt's French Bulldog a Boser.

Judging in more than one class was as exciting as a horserace yesterday at the Long Island Kennel Club, and all who attended the bench show in the Clermont Avenue Rink, whether attracted by the dogs or the folks that own them, had plenty of entertainment. To let dogs delight to bark and bite, as sug-gested by Dr. Watts, has no place in the in-structions to the judges, and the bad temper of Straight Tip in the ring no doubt helped Historian to beat him and make new history Historian to beat him and make new history in Irish terrier annals. Historian won in this city, Celtic Badger being away, and lost to thas Canadian celebrity at Boston. Since then at Pittsburg, Rochester and Buffalo, the judging at the latter show being by Tom Ashton, who bred Historian, Straight Tiphas had the blue. Yesterday Straight Tiphas had the blue. which is said to have cost $2,500 in England and is owned by Gifford A. Cochran, was in a Donnybrook Fair meed and ended his scrapping in the ring by nipping the judge, Single ton Van Schaick. Always very evenly matched, with Straight Tip the better liked for "divilment" in style, the poor showing probably turned the scale against the latest mportation. Celtic Badger has still to meet Straight Tip, but as he has beaten Historian, the Canadian at present has the best record.

There was more than one surprise in the Boston terrier judging. First places in winners for dogs and bitches, respectively, were won by old friends, Myron W. Robinson's Champion Colonel Monte and Lady Anthony. Although a New England resident, Robinson is a member of the Long Island Kennel Club committee and his successes, according to Secretary Dale, count in the tally for Brooklyn. Lady Highball played a good second string to Lady Anthony, but Eastover Lancelot's folks did not indorse the prominence given to Champion Monte, nor did the Stod-dards fancy the eclipse of King Richard, who beat Eastover Lancelot at the West-minister show. Dale judged at Boston and put Eastover Lancelot over the best dogs of "the Hub." J. C. Sullivan, whose protest against the dog on the ground that the tail was faked was thrown out by the Westminister committee, still has a protest pending against Eastover Lancelot for the Boston win. Up to closing time no one had filed a protest last night against the winnings of the Philadelphia dog.

Aquehung Farms, with Richelieu and

Mrs. Burke Boche's string, including Elm Court Fort Lee Girl did not gain the usual string of ribbons.

Judge Mortimer wound up his many classes with the Griffons Bruxellois, giving first to one of Mrs. J. L. Kernochan's entries, and the Scottish terriers, in which he could find nothing better than Champion the Laird. Blues went also to two sired by this dog, Dr. Foote's puppy Rochelle Taffy and Mrs. Jack Brashier's King Fergus.

MARVIN HART'S CHALLENGE. Louisville Man Will Fight Jeffries-Champion's Reply.

It is evident, according to a despatch from San Francisco, that Marvin Hart is bent upon engaging in a match with Jim Jeffries. Unlike some of the champion's previous opponents Hart does not make any unreasonable stipulations, but says that he is ready to try conclusions at once if necessary.

Hart, who is at present in San Francisco issued the following challenge to Jeffries yesterday: "I am ready to sign articles for a match with the Boilermaker, the same to take place in about six months time. I injured my hand in my fight with Johnson the ether night and it is still pretty sore. I broke my hand some time ago and it bethered me a good deal on Tuesday night. I think that had it been in any kind of condition I would have done better and knocked Johnson out. I wish to impress the public with one thing, and that is I am not afraid. I think that I have a good chance of beating Jeffries and do not ask any favors from any quarter. Jeffries's arms are not as long as Johnson's and I can get at him better. Johnson was able to keep me off with his long left, and it made it difficult for me to reach him. I will never fight a negro again. I always drew the color line, but I took Johnson on just because he stood in the way of me getting at Jeffries."

When Jeffries was informed of Hart's challenge he raised his eyebrows a bit and said: "If it's on the level it looks very good. I said I would fight him and I am going to keep my word. But I must be convinced first that business only is meant and that the public will be satisfied that Hart is a fit opponent for me. I don't want any more of these Jack Munroe farces. I did not make a cent out of that affair and I don't care to fight for nothing. If Hart is on the level let him post a forfeit for a fight next fall. As soon as this is done I will cover his money and there will not be any trouble in our coming together." ask any favors from any quarter. Jeffries's

BASEBALL YESTERDAY. I'we Victories in One Day for the New York Nationals.

NASHVILLE, March 30.-The New York Nationals to-day won the first double header of 1906 from the strong Southern League team of this city. In the first game the masterly twirling of Taylor and Mathewson proved too much for the fishermen. A batting feature of the contest was the home drive of Meries over the centre field fence, the first time such a feat has been accomplished in many years. Dahlen did not play, as his left hand is awollen and causing him

The second game of five innings was pitched by Joe McGinnity, and he was always master of the situation. Manager McGraw tried out his recruits, Neal, Hall and Strang, and all showed to good advantage. McEwen also went to bat for Taylor in the first game and showed up well, although he did not hit safely. The scores:

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY. Lyceums of Brooklyn Churches Form a League to Play Games.

There is to be a baseball league among the lyceums connected with the Catholic churches in Brooklyn. Already ten clubs have been formed and the pastors of the various churches in Brooklyn hope each to have a representation in this baseball league. Mgr. Barrett, Bishop McDonnell's secretary, and Chancellor Mundelein declined to make any statement yesterday in regard to the movement other than the fact that they knew of it, that the Bishop thought it an excellent recreation and that all the pastors were, with few exceptions, anxious to have such an amusement succeed. The fact that the games are to be played on Sunday afternoons is the reason no official statement will be made until after the first games have been played and the municipal authorities have passed upon the legality of Sunday ball playing.

The pioneer church and lyceum in Sunday The pioneer church and lyceum in Sunday ball playing is the Church of the Visitation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, corner of Richards and Verona streets. The Rev. William T. McGuirl, now pastor of St. Michael's Church, started it #year ago. He rented a block between Clinton and Henry streets, fenced it in and charged an admission of 15 cents. The games were played every Saturday and Sunday afternoon, and as many as 5,000 persons witnessed these games on Sunday afternoons. Father McGuirl and his assistants were always present and when Judge Gaynor said there would be no more Sunday ball playing where money for admission was paid Father McGuirl granted free admissions and sold programmes for 15 cents. He said: "This is an innocent amusement. It keeps the young men away from saloons, concert halls and beer drinking for the afternoon. It is a healthful, clean game any way you look at it." This year the Rev. William J. White is pastor of this church and the games are to continue as heretofore, but instead of playing, outside teams other Catholic lyceums in Brooklyn will be the contestants. Father McGolrick of St. Cecilia's Church said yesterday: "Our lyceum will be in the league, but I don't want to say anything until after the first games. We play our first game Sunday next, April 2, and our boys and girls are looking forward to a good afternoon's outing."

The first thirty-two will compete at match play for the championship and prizes; the third sixteen for a cup; the fourth sixteen for a cup; the fourth sixteen for a cup, and the defeated sixteen of the first thirty-two for the president's cup. Only players having a rating on the M. G. A. handicap list of 17 are eligible to start in this event.

The Metropolitan interclub four ball match for pairs, eighteen holes medal play, and the Metropolitan handicap, at thirty-six holes medal play, will also be held the prizes being silver cups and gold medals. The two events are for past entries, but entries for the championship must be made through the secretaries of the clubs, and they will close at the office of the secretary of the M. G. A., Leighton Calkins, 25 Broad street, on Saturday, May 20, at noon.

The championship winner will have his name inscribed on the championship plate, and it shall be held for the year by his club. He also receives a gold medal outright. Both Travis and Douglas have two wins scored on the championship plate, which is a massive silver salver that cost $1,000, and should either of the two win again the trophy will become the permanent property of his club.

All entries are subject to the approval and authority of the tournament committee, whose decision on all points shall be final. All the match play rounds will be at eighteen holes except the final, which will be at thirty-six holes. Remittances should be by checks payable to the M. G. A. and should accompany the entries. The fee is $2 for each player entered

At the meeting of the Jersey City Golf Club on Wednesday night arrangements were about completed to erect a clubhouse on an accessible site and to abandon any idea of a links within the city limits. The clubhouse will be larger than the former one, and there will be five courts for law tennis. The property used formerly by the club has been added to the park lands, and it has been impossible to obtain another tract that would suit. George H. Bowley has joined the Roseville Golf Club, and the members who intend to keep up their game will join other clubs, as under the present plan lawn tennis will be the chief recreation on the grounds this season.

AIKEN, S. C., March 30.—The tie between Mrs. C. M. Hinkle and S. J. Colford, Jr., for the Palmetto handicap trophy was played off to-day, Mrs. Hinkle winning by a score of 101. 28—73 over Mr. Colford, 90, 14—76. In the thirty-six hole final for the Southern trops cup between T. C. Stevenson and H. A. Sands the latter won by one up. In the thirty-six hole final in the handicap play for the Consolation cup W. H. Sands, 9, beat J. C. Tappin, 13, by 8 and 7.

O. E. CROMWELL TO BE PRESIDENT

N. Y. Y. C. Regatta Committee Man to Head Sound Yacht Association.

At the meeting of the delegates to the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound to-night Oliver E. Cromwell, who is the chairman of the regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club, will be elected president. Mr. Cromwell is a delegate to or the New York Yacht Club, will be elected president. Mr. Cromwell is a delegate to the association from the Seawanhaks Corinthian Yacht Club. This news caused some surprise in yachting circles yesterday, because for some years the New York Yacht Club and the association have been rather far apart, and no one ever expected that the chairman of the regatta committee of the New York Yacht Club would ever be the president of the association.

Yacht clubs are, however, drawing closer together. It was through the efforts of the New York Yacht Club that a conference of members of other clubs was called which resulted in the adoption of a uniform rule of measurement, and now that Mr. Cromwell is to be the president of the association it is expected that schedules will be afranged without friction and other minor troubles will be smoothed away. The New York Yacht Club will in future hold most of its races on the Sound, and, while it cannot become allied with the Sound association, because the New York Yacht Club does not give open regattas, it can work with the association for the benefit of yachting on the Sound.

It is rather coincident, too, that Charles P.

Sound.

It is rather coincident, too, that Charles P.
Tower, the secretary of the association, who will be reelected to that office to-night, is also chairman of the regata committee of the Larchmont Yacht Club. He represents the Riverside club in the association, the Larchmont club not being enrolled in the Sound organization. The meeting will be held at the Hotel Astor and the racing schedule will be arranged.

YALE SWIMMERS WIN. Beat Harvard in Three of Five Events at

Brookline Baths. BOSTON, March 30 .- Some of the best swim mers of the New York A. C., Harvard, Yale and the Brookline swimming clubs competed in the meeting at the Brookline Public Baths and the Brookline swimming clubs competed in the meeting at the Brookline Public Baths last night before a large crowd. J. W. Lawrence of the New York A. C. won the 25 yard acratch invitation event over L. G. Rich of Brookline, in 12 4-5 seconds. Goodwin of New York won the 100 yard invitation scratch over Rich, in 1 minute 4 4-5 seconds. The final heat in the 50 yard open handicap was won by K. E. Emerson of the Boston A. A. with 10 seconds, in 31 4-5 seconds. Fred Furfey of the Boston A. A. won the 100 yard open handicap in 1 minute 14 2-5 seconds. L. B. McKenzie of Brookline won the open diving competition, G. P. Cooke of Tale, equalled the world's record, made by himself, in the invitation plunge for distance, making 68 feet. A. K. Smith of Brookline was second with 67 feet 1 inch.

The competitions open to Harvard and Yale swimmers only were won by the Yale men, who got three out of the five contests. The 50 yard scratch event between S. P. Johnson of Yale and J. V. Quinlan of Harvard was won by the former in 31 5-5 seconds. Cooke of Yale was an easy winner in the plunge for distance, open only to the collegians, with a distance of 67 feet 8 inches. Eliot Farley, of Harvard won the 100 yard scratch event from D. R. Meiss of Yale, in 1 minute 9 4-5 seconds. The Harvard swimmers won the relay race with Yale by a yard, the time being 2 minutes 17 seconds. Yale had an easy time in the water pole game with Harvard, scoring 8 goals, to 0 for their opponents.

Queer Looking Foul at Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—The fouling of Monte Atteil of San Francisco by Jimmy Walsh of Boston in the wind-up at the Na-

Monte Atteil of San Francisco by Jimmy Walsh of Boston in the wind-up at the National Athletic Club last night marred one of the fastest boxing bouts of the season. In the sixth round, with only thirty-five seconds to go, the Boston boxer landed a swing on the neck and instantly followed it with another to the body. The instant it landed Attell fell to the floor with a groan and lay there until Referee McGuigan and a couple of seconds picked him up and carried him to his corner.

After being treated by a doctor Police Captain Thompson ordered Attell's removal to the Pennsylvania Hospital and the arrest of Walsh and the following seconds of both men: Ed Keevin of Boston, Ed Burk, 1921 Wood street; Walter Johnson, 1521 South Bancroft street; Harry Fenberg of New York, John Diamond and George Ingram, 7012 Greenway street.

When Attell reached the hospital five physicians could find no injury. Walsh and the seconds were discharged by Magistrate Frank Smith this morning.

Until the alleged foul occurred Walsh had had all the better of the bout.

Models of Ocean Races.
The model committee of the New York Yacht Club, John E. Buchan, Robert Goelet and Theodore Zerega, have been making wonderful changes in the model room of the wonderful changes in the model room of the club, and when they are through with their work the collection will be of immense value. Interest in ocean racing has been much revived through the coming contest for the Emperor's cup, and a member of the club has donated full rigged models of the Henrictts, Fleetwing and Vesta, the three schooners that raced across the ocean in December, 1868. These models will be rigged just as the racers when they met in the ocean contest and are to be built on a quarter inch scale. Commodore James has given a working model of the Coronet and Mrs. Colt has presented to the club a model of the Dauntless, so that the race of 1887 is represented. A model is being made of the schooner Cambria, which defeated the Dauntless in 1870. When these models are finished the ocean racing yachts will be well represented, and the committee will then be able to turn its attention to the coming contest.
